Counselors in Training (CIT) is a summer program to build youth and teens into positive role models and future leaders in our community. Participants will develop leadership skills by guiding younger campers in daily activities and engaging in a variety of community service projects throughout the summer.

Program requirements: Participants must complete an application, submit one letter of recommendation and complete an interview with staff before acceptance into this program. At any time, staff may decide a participant needs to return to Camp Exploration if the CIT program becomes too challenging for them.

Goal: Our goal for our CITs is to create a positive experience and build confidence through leadership, skill building and personal growth along with teaching the Y values of honesty, caring, responsibility and respect.
